

Staff Prepares for ESD Opening

Dedication of ESD Office Wednesday

Dedication ceremonies for the newly completed Hope Employment Security Division building will be held Wednesday, June 15, 1:30 p. m.

Highlighting the dedication ceremony will be appropriate remarks by James L. Bland, who as Administrator was instrumental in securing Federal Reed Act funds for the ESD construction and building program.

Rev. Rufus Sorrells, Pres., of the Hope Ministerial Alliance and pastor of the First Methodist Church, will give the invocation and dedicatory prayer.

State Administrative officials and representatives from the Arkansas State Department of Labor, including Commissioner of Labor Clarence Thornbrough, are expected to attend.

Mayor Sam Andrews and other Hope City and County officials as well as members of the 1959 General Assembly from this section of the state are expected to be present.

The Hope ESD office is the third in the state to be completed in a planned agency building program programmed for 13 district offices in Arkansas. The 1959 Arkansas Legislature passed Act 393 authorizing and enabling the Employment Security Division to undertake the building program with Federal funds at no cost to the State of Arkansas.

Manager Teddy Jones of the Hope local office extended a cordial invitation to the public and friends of the agency.

Jones indicated today that the local ESD office would remain open until 6 p. m. Wednesday in order for many to attend the open house who will be unable to do so until after the local stores close at 5 p. m.

A large 40' x 140' blacktopped parking area is located at the rear of the building for the convenience of the public and the local office staff. A large attendance is expected for the opening.

Conway Votes on Industry Money

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Voters cast ballots today on a $2,200,000 industrial financing proposal.

At stake is the issuance of tax-free revenue bonds to replace earlier financing for Customade Products Co., a subsidiary of Universal Match Co.

Customade began operations last month.

Originally the city was to raise one million dollars with the firm to supply the rest. If voters approve the bond issue under a new state industrial financing act, the city would finance all of the plant and equipment expense.

Bonds would be repaid by rentals from the company and no tax levy would be required.

Ticket Ready for Poultry Festival

Total of 2300 tickets for local distribution to the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival to be held at the high school football stadium Friday, went on sale today. C. W. Bridges, ticket sales chairman, announced.

Tickets already are in the hands of various civic organizations in surrounding towns and counties. A crowd of 5000 is expected.

Highlights of the annual event will be the "Chicken Q" served at $1 per plate beginning at 4 and continuing until 7:30 p. m., and followed by the beauty and personality pageant at 8 o'clock in which 23 contestants have already entered.

Tickets can be purchased at the office of Hope chamber of commerce or from the following sales committee: C. W. Bridges, Bud Collier, U. G. Garrett, Bill Caldwell and J. W. Franks.

Explosion Sets Off Oil Inferno

FREEDOM, Pa. (AP)—An explosion blew off the top of a huge tank at the Valvoline Refinery Co. today and set off a fire that thousands of gallons of crude oil.

Flames and dense smoke billowed from the 40-foot high tank for six hours before firemen quelled the blaze with chemicals and water.

There were no injuries reported. Company officials declined to estimate the amount of damage pending an inspection.

Firemen from six communities played streams of chemicals on adjoining tanks to keep the intense heat from touching off another explosion.

The other tanks, with capacity up to 300,000 gallons, contained light naphtha, general solvent and cleaner.

The blast shattered windows in a three-block area and knocked two homes off their foundations on a cliff overlooking the refinery.

El Dorado TV Station Is Sold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Television station KTVE, El Dorado, Ark., has been sold to Washington businessman William H. Simon. Broadcasting Magazine said yesterday.

The weekly trade magazine said Simon, husband of former Federal Communications Commissioner Frieda B. Hennock bought the Channel 10 outlet for $1,100,000—$200,000 in cash and the remainder in payments over a 9 1/2-year period.

KTVE was owned jointly by Dr. Joe F. Rushton, W. C. Blewster and William M. Bigley, the magazine said. It began operating in 1955.

The magazine said Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) owned 25 per cent of the station until he returned his stock two years ago.

The sale is subject to FCC approval.

Simon was part owner of radio station WUST in Washington for a short time last year. Mrs. Simon served on the FCC from 1940 to 1955. She led a fight for educational channels and was a strong critic of some commercial broadcasting practices.

Robertson Infant Buried in Kansas

Graveside services were held Saturday at Hutchinson, Kansas for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson. Other survivors include a brother, Mike, the maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. D. Bullock of Hope and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robertson of Fort Worth, Texas.

Group Okays Modified Boggs Bill Version

BULLETIN

The House Ways & Means Committee this afternoon gave unanimous approval to the substitute measure for the Boggs bill, retaining most of the features of the original bill, a telephone message from Washington informed A. H. Washburn, publisher of The Star, at 2 p. m. today.

The Internal Revenue Service offered no objection to the terms of the bill which would cancel the bureau's right to disallow income tax deductions for money spent by taxpayers in public appearances in defense of their business interests. However, the Treasury Department had two men present to raise objections from time to time.

The bill now goes to the floor of the house.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means committee approved in principle today a bill to allow businesses to deduct for tax purposes some kinds of expense incurred in supporting or opposing legislation.

Final language of the bill is still to be drafted before it is sent to the House for action.

The measure says in effect that expenditures which otherwise would qualify as business deductions shall not be disallowed only because they were incurred in connection with legislative activities.

This is a modified version of a bill introduced by Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.). The Boggs bill, which was amended by the committee at a closed-door session, would flatly have allowed deductions for the cost of any lawful activities "incurred in supporting or opposing or otherwise influencing legislation."

Boggs has told the House that the Internal Revenue Service, in its definitions of allowable lobbying expenses, has raised questions that might involve some kinds of advertising, dues paid to labor and business groups, and expenses incurred in sending spokesmen for such groups to legislative hearings.

The bill specifies that the deduction privilege shall not apply to contributions to an individual's political campaign.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Press Assn. has telegraphed Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson to protest what it calls the Treasury's "unwarranted and unconstitutional interference" with proposed remedial tax legislation.

The reference was to the Treasury's reported opposition to a compromise version of the Boggs bill which would permit as federal income tax deductions legitimate advertising and other expenses incurred in advocating or opposing pending legislation.

The bill is named for Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.), its author.

The APA said a hearing on the compromise bill was scheduled for today before the House Ways and Means Committee at Washington.

The APA recalled, in its telegram, that at its recent annual convention it had protested tax rulings and regulations on matters with which the Boggs bill is concerned.

The telegram reads: "We understand despite amendment limiting scope of original Boggs bill, the Treasury intends to oppose the compromise legislation on Tuesday."

"In behalf of the country press, this association adopted a resolution June 3, declaring present federal tax rulings and regulations on deductibility of advertising and other public policy activities are an abridgement of free speech and press, and we now lodge with you a vigorous protest against the Treasury's unwarranted and unconstitutional interference with proposed remedial legislation."

The telegram was signed by Nashville publisher Louis Graves, resident of APA.

Miss Hospitality Pageant Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The seventh annual Arkansas Miss Hospitality Pageant will be held here Aug. 11-13.

About 40 girls from all parts of the state are expected to compete for the title. Miss Hospitality will be crowned during halftime of the Arkansas high school All-Star football game in War Memorial Stadium Aug. 13.

Donna Austin of El Dorado, reigning Miss Hospitality, will serve as pageant hostess.

74 Negroes Seek Transfers at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Seventy-four Negro students have asked the school board to transfer them from all-Negro schools to predominantly white ones.

A total of 73 transfer petitions were filed yesterday within hours of the deadline for appealing student assignments. One had filed previously.

Thirty-five students at all-Negro Horace Mann High School seek transfers. Of these 30 want to attend Central High, three want to go to Hall High and two to the small Technical High.

Transfer requests were made by 39 pupils enrolled at Dunbar Junior High School for Negroes. Twenty-three seek admission to West Side Junior High, nine want transfers to East Side Junior High and seven want to attend Forrest Heights Junior High.

The 74 Negroes had been assigned to all-Negro schools under the Arkansas pupil placement law. The school board earlier had assigned 13 Negroes to predominantly white high schools for the fall term but said it did not plan to desegregate the junior highs.

The board may not consider race in making assignments.

Hearings must be held for each of the 74 who applied for reassignment. If their petitions are turned down, they may appeal to circuit court.

A total of 115 white students asked for transfers between predominantly white schools. These requests apparently were not related to the integration situation, Supt. Terrell E. Powell said.

Eight Negroes attended once-white high schools here in the 1959-60 school term. Three graduated, leaving five to return in the fall. Eight incoming Negro 10th graders were assigned by the board to predominantly white schools.

Filipinos Roar Out a Joyous Welcome to American President

MANILA (AP)—A joyous, singing, almost uncontrollable mass of Filipinos today nearly overwhelmed President Eisenhower with an ecstatic welcome.

This land which the United States set free only 14 years ago gave Eisenhower perhaps the greatest tribute he has ever received overseas. One and a half million or more roared their acclaim along a flag-bedecked route showering Eisenhower with a near blizzard of pastel confetti and even paper boxes.

The crowd rivaled the nearly hysterical turnout of Indians who welcomed Eisenhower to New Delhi last December.

Sometimes surging out of control, the tide of humanity slowed his parade to a walk as they jammed to within inches of the open car. He rode beside Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia from the airport to downtown Manila, 10 miles.

Acrid fumes from the slow-moving cars occasionally brought tears to Eisenhower's eyes. Filipino and American security agents strained to clear a path in humid 85-degree heat. One Englishman well-wisher tried to climb on the hood of the automobile. Police hustled him away.

U. S. Baughman, head of the U. S. Secret Service, estimated the crowd at 1 1/2 million. The Philippine press secretary, Jose P. Noble, said police and military officials set the total at three million—1 1/2 million in Manila alone.

Dripping with perspiration, Eisenhower flashed his famous grin at the crowds. They smiled and waved back at him with affection for a home town boy made good—the young Army officer who served here in the '30s and later became president. The display was unequaled in the island's history.

The tone of the popular greeting was obvious from the moment Eisenhower landed at the airport after a long, tiring flight from Alaska via Wake Island.

Garcia—despite political pressures that sometimes make it expedient to strike an unfriendly pose toward America—was unstinting in his praise of Eisenhower and the United States as leaders of the free world in a quest for peace.

Garcia said the Philippines "is and will ever be the staunch friend and ally of the United States." He praised Eisenhower for his "patient, passionate and unrelenting quest for permanent and just world peace."

Says Faubus Ordered Integration

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — H. E. Williams charged today that Gov. Orval B. Faubus, during his first term, ordered the integration of at least two Arkansas colleges.

Williams said a leader in Arkansas education "who known to practically every person in Arkansas, said two state college presidents voluntarily informed him that Faubus instructed them to integrate the state colleges."

"They were told that Gov. Faubus would tolerate no delay in the matter."

Williams didn't identify either the educator or the college presidents.

His remarks were contained in a prepared statement issued at his Little Rock headquarters.

The release said Williams would repeat his assertions in speeches at Clarendon and Marianna later today.

Neither labor nor the contractor issued any additional statement today.

The action followed labor-management talks after the death in a fall Friday of Daphus D. Smith Jr., a 24-year-old boilermaker from Batesville, Ark. Two other men were injured in the accident.

Among requests the union men made were for an acceleration of the safety program, the enforcing of strict discipline among workers and the elimination of any unsafe conditions resulting from inadequate help.

At the Arkansas Writers Conference recently Miss Mary Anita Laster, Hope Star society editor and feature writer, won third place for an article submitted in the Historical Feature Section.

Attending market this week at Little Rock are Mrs. W. M. Blake, Mrs. Paul Raley, Mrs. Winifred White and Mrs. W. W. White.

Polly McCurkle of Hope has been named by the Conway Baptist College faculty to serve as editor of "The Towers," college yearbook.

Warns Reds Alliance Is Solid

GENEVA (AP)—France warned the Soviet Union today it would be a serious error to believe the new Soviet disarmament plan partly based on French ideas could disrupt the solidarity of the Western Alliance.

French disarmament expert Jules Moch told the 10-nation disarmament conference the plan put forward by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev June 2 "denotes a complete change in the Soviet position even if certain principles seem to have remained unchanged."

Moch recalled that Khrushchev and Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin repeatedly emphasized that the plan contained proposals originally put forward by the French government.

"If—as I do not believe—the authors of the plan conceived it with the ulterior motive of exploiting it in order to weaken or disrupt the Western Alliance they will have made a serious error as nothing will shake our solidarity," Moch said.

In his first speech since the disarmament talks resumed June 7, Moch said the Soviet plan had obviously been defeated at the ill-fated summit conference.

Ormsby-Gore asked Zorin a series of questions saying the answers were essential to permit the Western powers to determine their attitude to the Soviet plan.

Zorin replied that the questions should be settled by negotiation and suggested that the Western delegations start the ball rolling by proposing their own answers.

Cites Dangers to Way of Government

ARKADELPHIA Ark. (AP)—The United States is in grave danger of losing its republican form of government, Arkansas Supreme Court Justice Ed I. McFaddin told the opening session of an American studies seminar at Ouachita Baptist College today.

"Unless trends are reversed," McFaddin said "we will soon lose — if indeed we have not already lost — a republic composed of states and become instead a federal empire operated by a bureaucracy that makes state's mere puppets and makes ours a welfare existence administered by bureaucrats."

He criticized the executive legislative and judicial branches of the federal government for this trend. He said the main blame should be on "the individual citizens who have come to believe that it is the duty of government to support the people instead of vice versa."

He offered a three-fold solution: 1. election of congressmen who do not believe in the welfare state; 2. a constitutional amendment to limit powers of the U. S. Supreme Court and provide for correction of the court's "erroneous decisions"; and 3. "get thinking people to see just how far we have drifted from our constitutional moorings."

McFaddin doubled however that anti-welfare congressmen could be elected since "I've never seen a child sit up by the fire waiting to kill Santa Claus."

GOING MY WAY?—Yugoslavian starlet Zoraida Minloff wears filmland version of ancient Roman dress for her part in a new TV series, "The Barbarians," being filmed in Rome.

CHAPTER XXV

"I think you'd better try to explain," said Buckner.

"I got mixed up in a few things you didn't know about, because I was too ashamed to tell you about them. There was a time, for instance, when I ran up a $2000 gambling debt that Gully had to pay. I'd got to the end of my rope when we were sent to Jupiter with those cattle. Gully laid it out plain the night before we left. One more slip on my part would be the last—he'd drown me, cut me off at the pockets. Maybe he was bluffing. Looking back now, I think he was, because I've always been his soft spot. Anyway he had me scared—plenty scared—but still I did a foolish thing."

"Yes," Buckner said. "You started gambling at Jupiter."

"With my own money, Ry. You were with me that first night, and you'll remember that I won. That's what gave me the notion I was going to come home with $2000 in winnings and pay Gully back. But the next night I lost, so I began digging into the cattle money. Oh, those Jupiter City sharks knew how to string along a sucker. All the while you kept prodding me to get along home. Finally I gave you a carpalbag full of news."

He offered a three-fold solution: 1. election of congressmen who do not believe in the welfare state; 2. a constitutional amendment to limit powers of the U. S. Supreme Court and provide for correction of the court's "erroneous decisions"; and 3. "get thinking people to see just how far we have drifted from our constitutional moorings."

McFaddin doubled however that anti-welfare congressmen could be elected since "I've never seen a child sit up by the fire waiting to kill Santa Claus."

Gully guessed that you'd gambled the money away. Buckner said. "He told me so last night."

"I walked the streets of Jupiter afterwards, Ry. I was crazy. Then it hit me that you likely hadn't, and that if I masked myself and got that bag away from you, I'd be in the clear. Someone unknown would be blamed for the robbery."

"Yes," Buckner said, his voice hardening, "and there you planted that last couple of hundred in my bunk. With serial numbers on those bills to identify them as being cattle sale money!"

"Yes, Ry. I did that, too."

"But why?" Buckner asked explosively. "All the rest of it I can understand now. But you nailed down the lid on me by planting money in my bunk. Why, man?"

"I don't know," Duke said miserably.

"Maybe I do," Dorcas said.

Buckner hadn't looked at her till now. He had kept his eyes on Duke's face, watching his agony, his desperation.

"In bookkeeping," Dorcas said, "an account is debits and credits and a balance until a last entry is made that closes the account. Then you're up. We draw a line under it, and that finishes the matter. Duke wanted the account of the missing money ruled closed. Not until that happened would he be truly free of worry."

By planting that money in your bunk, you'd be blamed and the account closed. And having done that, he was stuck with it."

Duke nodded slowly. "I never thought of it that way. Then or since. But it's so. I guess, the way Dorcas puts it. Once I went to the courthouse and walked halfway up the stairs to the county attorney's office. I was going to spill the whole thing to Granville Cross. My nerve ran out before I got to his door."

"And I stayed in prison because of that! It's not the five years as much as knowing you

3 Railways Announce Merger Plans

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Norfolk and Western Railroad and the New York Chicago and St. Louis Railroad (Nickel Plate) agreed to merge it was announced today.

The joint statement by the presidents of the two lines said the merger would be submitted to shareholders of the two companies and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

If merger is approved, it would create a new system having some 5024 miles of track extending from Virginia through Illinois and into New York State. Terms of the agreement call for exchanging each share of Nickel Plate common stock for 45 shares of Norfolk and Western common. This would give Nickel Plate stockholders about a fifth of the common stock in the merged company.

The joint announcement released by N&W after a meeting of its board here said the proposed merger is contingent upon the acquisition of a connecting link between the two lines. President Stuart T. Saunders of the N&W and F. S. Hales of the Nickel Plate said consideration is being given to connecting the two properties by means of the Pennsylvania Railroad line between Columbus Ohio and Sandusky Ohio.

They said negotiations to this end are being held with the Pennsylvania which owns a third of the N&W common stock and has four members on the 14-member N&W board.

The connection link would be a 111-mile span. The two presidents said "Our studies have shown that a merger would result in substantial saving and economies as well as better service to the shipping public. The amount of the savings will not be known until we have completed our plans for connecting the two roads."

The Norfolk and Western recently merged with the Virginia Railway Co. The Nickel Plate-N&W merger would place the new company in the first 10 railroads in the nation.

RAF Plane Forced to Turn Back

NEW YORK (AP)—A Royal Air Force plane loaded with families of British military and diplomatic personnel, returned safely today after developing engine trouble over the Atlantic.

It had been en route to Lyneham England near London carrying 80 persons including an eight-man crew.

Arkansas in the latter part of the week.

Faubus had little to say over the weekend. He dedicated a new airport at Mountain View yesterday and dedicated new buildings in Springdale and Siloam Springs Saturday.

About 2,000 persons jammed the Walnut Ridge town square Saturday night to hear Williams. The Southern Baptist College president compared Faubus as "establishing a dictatorship of convenience for a few who are growing rich off the poor taxpayer of Arkansas."

Williams was the first of the five candidates to stage a formal campaign opening, although most have been campaigning vigorously since the Democratic ticket closed in April.

Hardin said Saturday that Faubus realizes first primary voting will result in a runoff and is preparing to cancel plans he made to attend the Democratic National Convention.

Bennett named Jim Mooty, the University of Arkansas football All America, and Hodge Kirby of Little Rock as his campaign co-managers. Harry Lee Williams will be in charge of Bennett's campaign office.

Manager Wools has been an assistant attorney general for several years.

Williams lashed at Faubus' record on integration. "We are told this is an administration of segregation and yet more schools have been integrated here than in any other truly Southern state," he said.

The candidate also charged that Faubus "forced integration in our colleges," but he did not elaborate.

Comparing Faubus to Huey Long, Williams said. "Look at Louisiana, and all because of one man."

Faubus dedicated the new Arkansas State Bank Building in Siloam Springs Saturday and the Springdale Savings and Loan Assn. in Springdale. He told large crowds in both towns that Arkansas is paying off its debts and is in comparatively good financial shape.

He dwelt mostly on what he called the accomplishments of his administration, and lashed at the federal government for its policies and what he called interference in school matters.

The five candidates will take turns speaking Saturday at the Pink Tomato Festival in Warren, Miss. Pink Tomato, 1960, will be crowned Friday night.

Phillips U. Players Here

Employment in U. S. Has Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—A million-man increase in employment in May was reported by the Labor Department today.

The substantial gain about normal or slightly better for the season carried the nation's total civilian employment to a record for the month at 67,208,000. Unemployment fell by about 200,000 to 3,459,000. This also was about an average movement for May.

The unemployment rate—4.9 per cent of the civilian labor force—was a bit better than April's 5 per cent but not down to the 4.8 per cent in February.

The decline in unemployment meant that 951 of every 1000 men and women who wanted jobs had them. But factory employment declined seasonably by 45,000 mainly because of continued cutbacks in the steel and machinery industries. There were about 150,000 fewer factory jobs than there were a year ago.

Despite these declines and the release of 120,000 temporary census workers, the total number of persons on nonfarm payrolls rose by 80,000 in May to 53,100,000. This was 900,000 higher than a year ago and a record for the month.

The expansion of employment reflected chiefly gains in farming construction and other outdoor work. They brought the employment total to a level 1 1/4 million above that of a year ago.

Appointment Made at Spa Center

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The State Board of Education today announced the appointment of Dr. Shelby G. Gamble of Okmulgee, Okla., as director of medical services for the new regional rehabilitation center at Hot Springs.

Dr. Gamble will report Aug. 1.

for a visit with friends and relatives.

Linda Thrash and Ann Sutton left Sunday for a two-weeks engagement of the Y. W. A. at Ridgecrest, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Bryant and Betty are vacationing in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Royner-son left Saturday for a vacation trip to Amarillo, Tex., and Denver, Colo.

Mrs. John Olin Nix

In a candlelight ceremony at 7:30 p. m. June 13 in the First Baptist Church, Miss Toni Nanelle Thompson became the bride of John Olin Nix. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Emmett Thompson of Sacramento, Calif.

Mr. Nix is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Nix.

Dr. John H. McClanahan was the officiating clergyman. The double ring ceremony was performed before a background of Woodwardia fern, Salal, and candle trees. White tapers burned softly.

Thomas Lavin, Atlanta, Texas, soloist, was accompanied by Luther Hollomon, organist. Selections included "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction. "Clair de lune" was played during the exchange of vows.

The bride, given-in-marriage by her father, wore a chapel length gown of white silk organza over taffeta. The fitted bodice had a deep, rounded neckline and the long sleeves tapered to a point at the wrists. Appliques of imported Chantilly lace trimmed the bodice and front of the bouffant skirt. Tiny satin bows topped with seed pearls completed the appliques. The back of the gown was accentuated by a puff bow.

The bride's illusion veil was held by a pearl encrusted crown. She carried a cresent of gardenias.

Mrs. Lloyd Guerin, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sonya Sommerville, Miss Marcia Bowden, Miss Helen Ruth Smith, Little Rock, and Miss Susie Fleming, Fayetteville. Miss Kathy Guerin and Paul Guerin, niece and nephew of the bride, were candlelighters, while another nephew, Peter Guerin was ring-bearer. Her niece, Miss Kevin Guerin, was flower girl.

The attendants wore identical dresses of angel blue silk organza over taffeta, fashioned with a deep neckline of draped organza. Their skirts flared gracefully from fitted waists. Matching Swiss lace was the only trimming. Each wore little trimmed headpieces and carried a cascade of white Esterceda daisies.

Edsel Nix, Brenham, Texas, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Groomsmen were Orval Brannan, Bill Tooley, Shelby Sharpe, Fort Worth, and Stuart Towns, Forrest City.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride, chose a powder blue silk linen sheath accented with a buck drape of silk organza. Her accessories were white. Mrs. Nix, mother of the groom, wore a smoke grey silk organza dress, fashioned in shirtwaist style with a lace bodice. Her accessories were corn flower blue. Both wore white cymidium corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hope Country Club. At each corner of the bride's table china wedding bells were placed in the folds of white organza. White candles, an arrangement of white daisies and Salal, a five-tiered wedding cake ornamented with wedding bells, and lime punch in roared a tumultuous homecoming for President Eisenhower today. Rivaling the frenzied reception he got in India last December.

Nearly all of Manila turned out to applaud and shout, pelt Eisenhower with a flood of confetti and repeatedly break through police lines in a display of affection never equaled in the Philippines.

From the moment Eisenhower landed at Manila Airport for the first stop of his Asian tour, the Philippines led by President Carlos P. Garcia hailed the American President as a former resident who had returned as the peace-seeking leader of the free world. The mass of men, women and children who lined the 10-mile route from the airport frequently pressed to within inches of the a crystal bowl completed the table appointments.

Mrs. E. P. Young Jr. greeted the guests. Alternating at the serving table were Mrs. Lyle Brown, Mrs. Newton Pentecost, Mrs. Byron Hefner, Mrs. Lloyd Spencer, Mrs. Thomas Lavin, and Mrs. Edsel Nix. Included in the house party were Mrs. E. J. Whitman, Mrs. Herbert Burns, Mrs. Thomas Hays, Mrs. George Frazier, Mrs. Carl Stuart, Jr., Mrs. Robert Rodriguez, Misses Suzanne Sommerville, Ginger Bowden, Anna Whitman, Evelyn Whitman, Phyllis Brown, and Danny Hefner.

The bride's travel ensemble was a frosted green linen sheath with fitted jacket. Her accessories were white, and she planned a gardenia corsage at her shoulder.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will attend summer school at the University of Arkansas where they will receive their degrees. In the fall the groom will enter Baylor Dental School.

Out-of-town guests include: Mrs. P. P. Irwin, Mrs. James Jack, Miss Jayne Jack, Mrs. Sam Kirby, Sam B. Kirby, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Greenwell, Miss Robin Greenwell, Master Mike Greenwell, all of Little Rock; Mrs. Charles M. Kannard of Phoenix, Ariz.; Jack Guerin of Kentfield, Calif.; Mrs. H. T. Guerin of Burlingame, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Webb, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lytle, all of Texarkana; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vanderhill and Gayle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Vanderhill, Sue Ann and Bill, Sharon and Eddie Vanderhill, Mrs. J. H. Sharpe, Ricky Vanderhill, all of Ft. Worth, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fleming and Sarah of Fayetteville; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rudemacher of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Robert Rodriguez of Brighton, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Nix of Brenham, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Murray of Arkadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lavin and Carolyn of Atlanta, Tex.; Mrs. Harry Bloomfield of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Webb, Jr., of Texas City, Tex.

Prescott Girl Wins Honors in State Meet

Miss Polly Ann Sherman of Prescott attended the Arkansas State Twirling Contest with National Open at Mt. Nebo Park in Dardanelle last week, which was sponsored by the Drum Majorettes of America.

Polly Ann won the title "Miss Majorette of Arkansas" and was presented a beautiful trophy and bouquet of red carnations by Miss Senelle Cornwell, Majorette Queen of America. Polly was judged on twirling, strutting, beauty, modeling in bathing suit and a show routine.

Polly Ann also won the title "State Strutting Champion" and in a presidential automobile, sometimes stopping it completely. The scheduled hour-long procession stretched into a triumphant hour and 40-minute parade as Eisenhower repeatedly acknowledged the acclaim with arms stretched in the humid 85-degree weather.

In a welcoming speech at the airport, Garcia told the U.S. President he would be "long remembered by our people and the other free peoples of Asia for your patient, passionate and unrelenting quest for a permanent and just world peace." Garcia said the Philippines "is and will ever be the staunch friend and ally of the United States."

Eisenhower in reply said that "no policy difference can ever tear apart" the bonds of friendship between the United States and the Philippines. He expressed the determination of the United States "to tie with you as true partners in defense of those ideals of freedom and human dignity in which we believe."

Eisenhower flew to Manila to start his 10-day Asian tour after an overnight stop at Anchorage, Alaska, and a brief pause for refueling at Wake Island. His big jet Columbine III landed at Clark Air Force Base north of the city. The President flew on to Manila in the propeller-driven Columbine II, since the Manila Airport runways are not long enough for the biggest jets.

The warmth of the Philippine welcome was in marked contrast to the fears of the reception awaiting Eisenhower in Tokyo, where leftist opponents of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi have been demonstrating daily in protest against Japan's new mutual defense treaty with the United States. But reports from Tokyo today said the threat of violence for the President's arrival was subsiding.

The Manila crowd was in a joyous, festive mood, reminiscent of the throngs that turned out for the President in New Delhi, on his last visit to Asia.

Many carried banners reading "Mahuhuy (Long Live) Ike," Arches across the motorcycle route proclaimed "We Love Ike."

Champion Twirler of Arkansas Wins Honors in State Meet

In the senior division, Sherman received two trophies for these honors. In the National Open Twirling and Strutting Contest, Polly Ann placed first and received two trophies.

Polly Ann will represent Arkansas at the International Twirling contest, which will be held at Fayetteville, North Carolina, in August.

When Polly arrived home, she had received through the mail another beautiful trophy for being selected Arkansas Most Beautiful Majorette of 1960.

Waiver Extradition

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John Junior James waived extradition today and will be returned to Texas to face murder and robbery charges.

Police say James has admitted the slaying of John Milton Blackford, 40, a customer in a Vaco supermarket he held up last Jan. 20.

Divorcee Advised to Wave Flag of Freedom This Flag Day

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE of freedom.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

I am a divorcee, have two children and am going with a man who has been married twice and divorced once. He has a child by his first marriage. His second wife has a child which he says isn't his. The trial for their divorce was postponed.

He says he loves me. I'd like to believe this. He came to my home town to look for work. I loaned him money. Then he got a job out of town. It paid a wonderful salary. He quit, she says, because he was being sent to the town where his second wife lives. He came back to my home town, bought a second hand car, sits in cafes all hours drinking coffee, playing the juke box or pin ball machine.

He doesn't eat breakfast. I fix his lunch and he eats supper with us every night. I do his washing. He treats me as a servant.

Last night he told me he had taken another job out of town. He said he loved me and the kids but must be on the move. He asked me to marry him and bought me my rings. I have my children; I can't move from town to town, especially at school time. He is wonderful with the children, dresses neat and is nice looking. I love him. Should I tell him to settle down if he wants me? —L.M.

Dear L.M.: I have the greatest compassion for you. Every woman wants to love and be loved, but it seems to me you are going overboard for the wrong man.

How do you know he will get his second divorce? From your description, he sounds as irresponsible as a robin and selfish to boot. Even though it hurts, put him out of your life and heart. This is Flag Day. Wave the flag of freedom.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

I am going steady with a boy. I had planned marriage after he gets out of the service three years from now. He told me I could go with other boys. Three weeks ago I wrote him that I was going out with someone he knew. He wrote back that if I didn't end it all, our plans would be only dreams. I broke with the other boy and wrote my soldier this. Now I've not received a letter from him for over two weeks. I love him very much. Please help me. —K.R.

Dear K.R.: Your soldier boy may be on maneuvers or en route to some distant land. Have patience. You'll hear from him eventually but—don't be too hasty about promising to "sola" till he returns. Three years is a long time to wait—for him as well as you. Curtailment of freedom is tantamount to clipping the wings of love and may even destroy it. Tell him so.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

I am 18 and have dated my sister's boy friends. She says I should be ashamed. I didn't want to but they kept after me. I don't love any of them, neither did she. Could a thing like this be called sinful? —I.S.

Dear I.S.: Sinful, no. Disloyal, yes. You're selling sister out. You'll be in for trouble if you keep on taking away her boy friends; trouble with her, trouble with your conscience and in the end trouble with the boys. Seek other fields to conquer.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her in care of this newspaper.

Operation Depends on the Patient

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — When a patient about to undergo surgery tells his doctor he knows he's going to die, what does the doctor do?

Many doctors put off the operation until the patient's feelings improve, a Marquette University psychiatrist said today.

Some evidence indicates a link between the mental and emotional state of the patient and surgical death. Dr. Eugene S. Turrell of Milwaukee told the annual meeting of the American Medical Assn.

Strong feelings of hopelessness may greatly excite the nervous system contributing to sudden death, Turrell said.

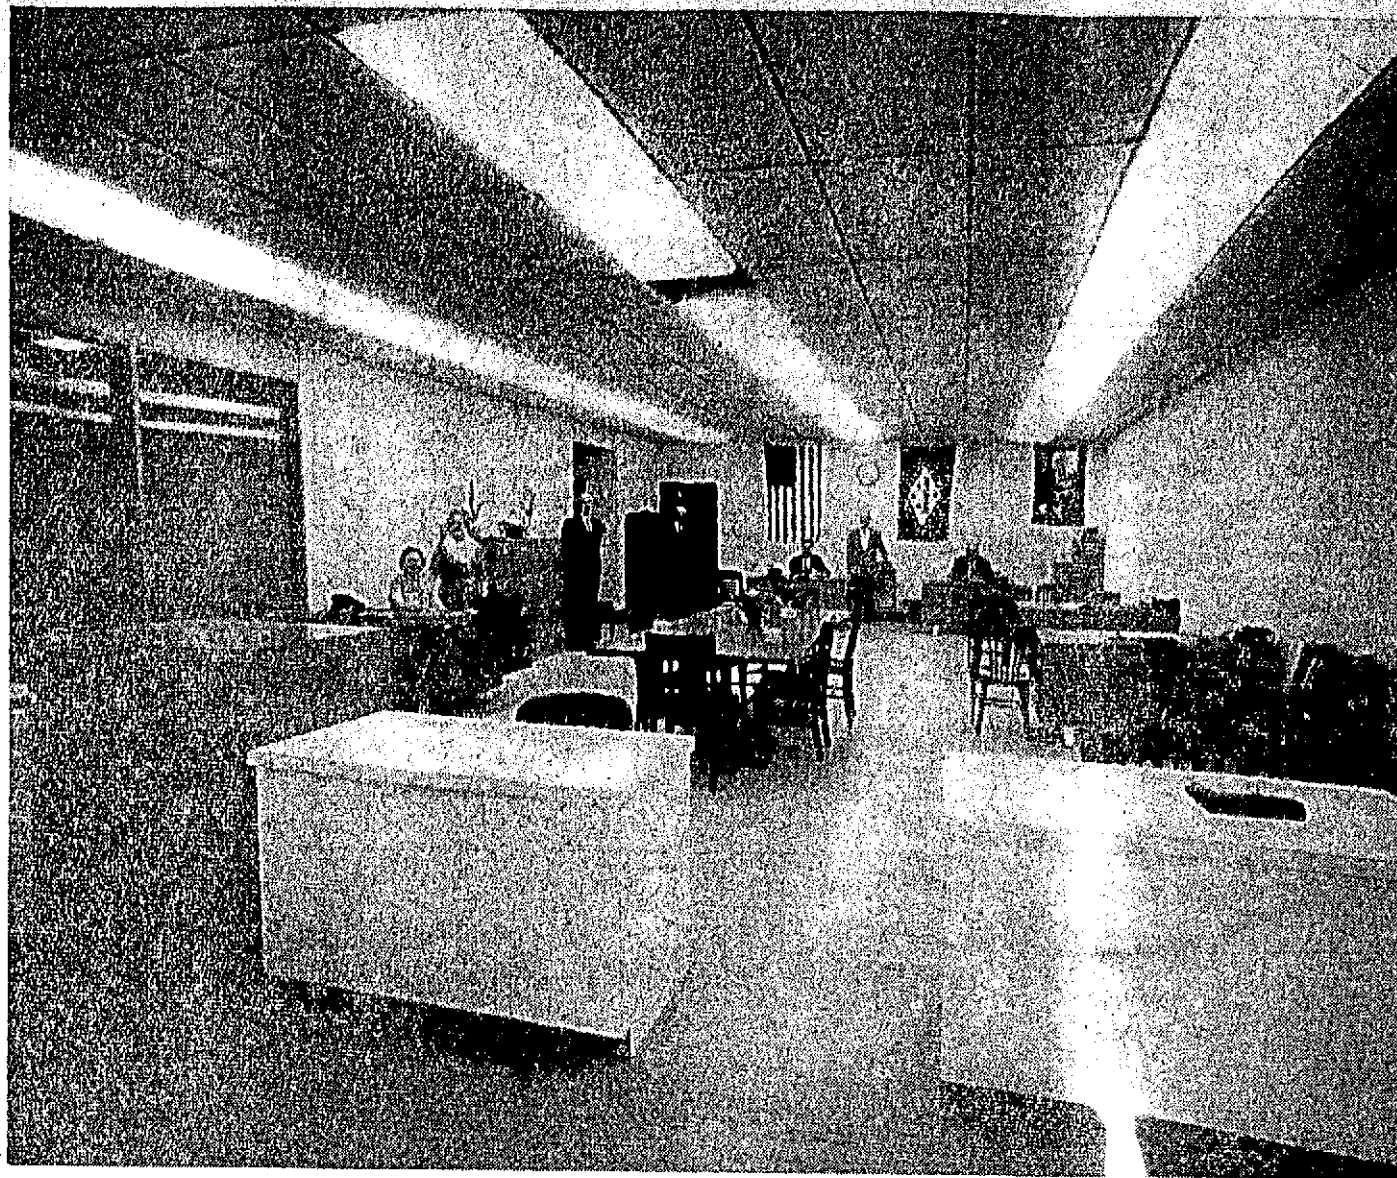

"If the patient does express such feelings that he is going to die an attempt should be made to understand these feelings and work them through prior to surgery," he added.

After the operation, depression and anxiety seem to slow the healing process. One researcher reported that highly anxious cancer patients lived shorter periods than did cancer patients with low anxiety.

"Perhaps anxiety robs the body of energy needed to defend against disease," Turrell said.

Wooden parts for automobile bodies first appeared on the list of Arkansas as products in 1919 with production valued at $253,654 that year and increasing to $3,551,359 by 1920.

Candidate Is Accused in Court Suit

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Hal Millsap Jr., a candidate for governor, and his father have been accused in a federal court receivership suit of mismanaging four million dollars of their company's money.

Eleven men who said they are stockholders in the Millsap Oil and Gas Co. filed the suit yesterday in U.S. District Court.

They charged that through mismanagement and misappropriation, the Millsaps have damaged the corporation by at least four million dollars.

The president of the company, Pat McCoy of Siloam Springs, said the firm never had that much money to begin with. McCoy called the suit a political maneuver by Millsap's enemies, whom he did not name.

Millsap said only that "it looks like political maneuvering." He reserved further comment until he could study the suit.

Federal Judge John E. Miller set a hearing on the case for June 21.

The stockholders asked that a receiver be named. They also asked that books be audited that they said was mismanaged and misappropriated.

Judge Miller told the Associated Press that the suit did not spell out exactly how the Millsaps are Fort Smith; D.C. Shackleford and alleged to have mismanaged and misappropriated the money. The action charged that the father and son received large amounts of stock for which the company received "little or no consideration."

Hal Millsap Sr. of Siloam Springs termed the charges "strictly ridiculous." The elder Millsap said he has not been an officer in the firm for several months but that he is a stockholder. He had no further comment.

The company was incorporated in Delaware in 1955 and authorized to do business in Arkansas, the suit said. McCoy said the company's assets included interests in South America in addition to Arkansas.

"There never has been anything close to four million dollars in the corporation," McCoy said. "Two million shares were authorized and not all of that was sold."

The court action charged that the elder Millsap as vice president and his son as president took over complete control of the company and "fraudulently mismanaged" the assets for their personal gain.

It charged they had issued false prospectus and financial statements.

Attorneys Sam Sexton Jr. and Charles R. Garner of Fort Smith filed the suit for the 33 stockholders, who were listed as Herman Schwartz, Afton Mitchell, W.R. Pierce of Paris, Frances Lettich and Afton Borum of Booneville; Joe Bennett, George Roberson and Eddie Roberson of Fort Smith; D.C. Shackleford and Jack Wilkerson of Fayetteville.

Survives Plunge Over Cedar Falls

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Bert Carleton Jr. 17 of Russellville has survived a 66-foot plunge over Cedar Falls at Petit Jean State Park.

He was injured gravely but apparently is recovering at a Morrilton hospital.

Carleton a 1960 graduate of Russellville High School was fishing near the top of the falls last Thursday.

His reel fell into the lake and when he attempted to recover the equipment he lost his footing and was swept over the falls.

The youth suffered a broken back four fractured ribs and a punctured lung. He was on the critical list for a time but was reported improved today.

A Morrilton physician said that to his knowledge Carleton was the third person to survive a plunge over the falls.

The doctor said that over the years approximately a dozen persons had been killed in similar drops.

manager said tools at the ice cream company had been taken from his store where burglars cleaned out the safe except for a single penny. He said the amount of loss had not been determined.

In both cases the safecrackers forced windows to enter the buildings then battered their way into the safes.

Loot $1,600 in Spa Burglary

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Burglars punched open a safe in an Oklahoma Tire & Supply Co. store over the weekend then used tools stolen from that store to break into another safe in a building across the street.

The loss exceeded $1600. Police said the burglars got $1600 in cash at the Arthur Cook Ice Cream and Dairy Co. but left $3400 in checks.

Chester Rankin the tire store and Thomas Boyd of Lavaea.

Millsap, 38, is one of four men opposing Gov. Orval E. Faubus' bid for a fourth term. Millsap filed for the office only a few hours before the Democratic ticket closed and has conducted a bus tour campaign around the state since then.

The main plank in his platform has been tax relief for the small taxpayer, especially repeal of the state income tax law.
